Real People. Unedited Reviews

Charles Jonathan Smith — 4★ Tried the custom order for personal bulk and it's a great meal plan replacement to hit caloric goals when too busy to cook meals. I give a 10/10 on ability to mix; 8/10 taste; and 10/10 convenience.

This is the only powder good option that I could find that does not use soy, uses some organic ingredients, and allows full customization. Thanks space food

Alex Martin — 5★

Thanks guys, absolutely love your product.

Daisy Yang — 5★ Hello I am a 32 year old Asian woman and I have been struggling with weight my whole life. I wanted to find something that would balance my eating habits. My fiancé and I now can just grab and go and enjoy and feel so good after having our double protein choco shake. I am going on my second week replacing breakfast and lunch and sometimes dinner. I couldn't be happier with the way I feel. I'm weight lifting with my fiancé 3x a week. My fiancé has been on 100% food for almost two months and he's loving every little bit of it. He's even got his family, my family and some of his co workers on 100% food. We'll keep you posted on our results and thank you again♥

Sara Kostur — 5★ When my most recent order of low carb was lost by the freight carrier, I let them know and they resent the order.

Their customer service is fantastic. Orders arrive in a timely manner and then take ownership of their product.

I keep returning because it is the meal replacement that tastes best to me. The original tastes like vanilla cake batter and the chocolate, like chocolate cake batter. Not too sweet and lasts all day.

I run a survival related page here on facebook so I wanted to see how it fared in the survival world. I also work a fast paced job in nearly outdoor conditions. Nutrition and metabolism are important, but a good meal will come back up once you're back to working. I found this to be very satisfying without sitting heavy on the stomach. I used skim milk to mix mine. Chocolate in the morning and regular for lunch.
